HOW DO YOU MAKE SENSE OUT OF THE SENSELESS??

So... we were going to write here about October being National Breast Cancer Awareness month, but then something more concerning, more gut wrenching happened – a dispicable individual armed with a small arsenal of [semi?] automatic weapons opened fire on an outdoor concert on the Las Vegas strip. A motive may never be known, although the reasons don't really as well as their families and friends, so we won't go that tragedy has shaken us to our core. It seems like it was and we will say it again as we did then, no civilian weapons! The most powerful political lobby in America, weapons – and that's exactly what they are made and manufactured with little to no regulation. How is it that drive, your car needs to be registered and meet certain the parking lot at any gun show which are held pretty gun right out of someone's trunk without a license or Now, before the braying about people coming for your guns, that will never happen because there are unfortunately just too many out there; but we have yet to hear any compelling reason for civilians possessing these types of weapons. And if you're a hunter, which should be outlawed as a 'sport' ioho, and you think you need one of these types of weapons, then you suck as a hunter! We don't like having to even think about these things, much less put fingers to keyboard, but we must ask "when will reasonable gun control become a reality as opposed to merely plaintiff pleas after such senseless tragedies??" We don't have the answer/s, we just know that something must be done – and done now!!

matter all that much to the dozens killed and hundreds injured, route. What we do know is that yet again another senseless just yesterday that we were grieving over the tragedy in Orlando should be able to possess automatic or semi-automatic however, somehow thinks it's ok that these types of 'assault' used for – assault – are easily obtained and continued to be automobiles are more strictly regulated? You need a license to other restrictions [speed, emissions, etc.] and yet you can go to much weekly in virtually any city or town and you can purchase a background check or training or.....?? It's downright disgusting.

On to more pleasant things – Match Day Six on Sunday October 1 at Easton, which was again met with beautiful weather: In the First Division, Wolves looks like the real deal after defeating Antrim Ballers 4-1 to stay at the top. Celtic is right behind with a 2-0 shutout of United who sits below the red line; while Capitals jumped over that line with an identical 2-0 score over Mutiny. Columbus City and Hammers A duelled to a 2-2 draw; and Torres left it late for the second straight week in a 3-2 win over Clintonville, who has work to do to avoid the drop.

In the Second Division, we are nearing the end of the first 'portion' of the season – the single round-robin to determine who advances into the Promotion Group and who goes into the Consolation Bracket. FC Columbus is a lock for the former after defeating Tango 7-3; and OBFC also will be in the Promotion Group by blanking Hammers B 1-0. AuFC still is in the hunt for the top group in spite of a 1-1 draw with Ideal. At the conclusion of Match Day Seven, we will know which teams fall where and then the match-ups will be announced. Stay tuned!!
